2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA's data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students).

What perception data did you use?	CCRPI School Climate survey data were used from teachers, parents, and students.
What does the perception data tell you?	29 Staff members answered the Climate and Culture Survey. 100% of those staff members felt as though students were learning. 83% of staff members felt as though their colleagues were caring and respectful. 69% of those answering the survey felt happy and appreciated and 59% felt supported. 119 Students took the climate and culture survey. The top 3 answers to how students would describe their teacher is fun, honest, and caring. 76% of students indicate they listen to the teacher in the classroom and 68% indicate they complete worksheets. The top four words used to describe how students feel at school is happy, challenged, bored, and interested. 104 parents participated in the climate and culture survey at Walker Park. 76% of parents feel students complete worksheets while at school. 58% indicated they felt students listened to teacher was what their child did while at school. 62% of parents surveyed indicate they have respectful and supportive interactions with the staff at Walker Park.
What process data did you use?	The process data used was Collaborative Planning sessions (with fidelity) focusing on interpreting and discussing standards. Ensuring teacher focus was on Concrete, Representational, and Abstract sequence of instruction in math to ensure understanding, focusing on small group instruction. The assessments used to measure progress were the STAR benchmark during the school year and GMAS data to end the year.
What does your process data tell you?	18-19 GMAS scores indicated excellent student growth and improvements in achievement in 3rd grade math, 4th grade math and ELA, and 5th grade math and ELA by more than 10% in each content area. STAR allowed us to examine and give an accurate projection for student achievement and growth to teachers and parents. The STAR benchmark was given 3 times over the course of the year and indicated deficits students had that could be addressed through small group instruction. A baseline assessment was given in August, and two other benchmarks were given in December and April and the results of those assessments were analyzed closely. These benchmarks allowed us to see if the collaborative planning and emphasis on interpreting and discussing standards was helping. Because of the increases in our STAR data throughout the year and on the GMAS by more than 10% in all areas (with the exception of 3rd

What does your process data tell you?	grade ELA), we were able to determine the processes put in place were having a powerful impact on student growth and achievement.
What achievement data did you use?	We used two different achievement tools throughout the school year. STAR reading and math as well as GMAS scores in grades 3-5 to determine student need.
What does your achievement data tell you?	The STAR was given 3 times over the course of the school year. It was given as a baseline score in Aug, again in early December, and it was also given in April. Our STAR benchmark data was very accurate at determining how our students would score on GMAS and acted as a great predictor. It allowed us to re mediate students in areas where there was a deficit from Jan to Mar. The second piece of achievement data we used was GMAS data. Our student achievement data improved. Improvement is indicated by the percentage of students achieving at level 3 and 4 performance. We improved in all areas tested. Our lowest area of improvement was in 3rd grade ELA. We improved in all other areas in all grade levels by almost 10% points except in 5th grade math. We improved 9% going from 25% to 34% from the year prior.
What demographic data did you use?	CCRPI demographic data break down in all content areas on 2018 GMAS.
What does the demographic data tell you?	Demographic data from the 17-18 school year tells us the following: our black students are performing the lowest out of all demographic subgroups with the exception of our students with disabilities and our Students with disabilities. Over 70% of our black students are achieving at a level 1 or 2 in all content areas on GMAS. The data also suggest the Economically disadvantaged and Students with disabilities are also consistently struggling. The percentages for level 1 and level 2 performance for the students in those two subgroups was consistently over 70%.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Walker Park Elementary has undergone quite a bit of change during the 2018-2019 school year. A totally new administrative team was in place for the 18-19 school year and implemented a lot of change to address student achievement deficits. The implementation of a weekly collaborative planning model with fidelity assisted with ensuring teachers were implementing quality standards based instruction in their classroom daily. Literacy was an area where improvement was needed. The implementation of a new sight word program in the early grades and promoting an incentive based reading program assisted with student literacy and we saw substantial literacy improvements as a result of our improved reading programs. A challenge we faced and continue to face this year is ensuring all activities have the appropriate amount of rigor needed to appropriately challenge students at all times in all content areas. Another challenge we are working through is ensuring teachers are implementing quality small group instruction daily. That instruction cannot be done without having a great, in-depth understanding of the abilities/deficits of the students in the classroom and gaining that knowledge of students became a priority.
Effective Leadership: Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	With the change in leadership last year, expectations had to be given and teachers had to be held accountable for their actions for the entirety of the school year. Teachers did respond well with a lot of the initiatives that were implemented such as collaborative planning and professional development. Teachers did a great job implementing standards based instruction and being held accountable by the admin team. One challenge we've had is ensuring daily lessons have an acceptable amount of rigor embedded to sincerely challenge students academically. Another expectation that has made a difference is to require teachers have small group instruction embedded in their plans on a daily basis.

Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	A strength of WPES with regard to professional capacity this past year has been the implementation of meaningful collaborative planning as well professional development. In most cases, those two things are very different. However, we implemented meaningful collaborative planning this year by discussing the standards teachers were planning for, interpreting and defining the standard and discussing what a lesson should look like. We used a calendar to ensure we maintained a schedule to reduce interference and made the sessions a major priority for the year.
Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Family and Community Engagement has been somewhat of a struggle at Walker Park in the past and an area we strived for improvement. Last year, we had a curriculum night where over 300 parents/family members were present for a spaghetti supper and a literacy discussion. Teachers also had the parents come to the classroom where they discussed student progress and how parents could assist students. Parent communication was a major priority for the admin as that had been a complaint from the years prior. The principal would send a monthly newsletter to parents and a weekly email to staff members to communicate upcoming school events. Two different conference days were held where parents could set an appointment and discuss student progress. Teachers send weekly emails to parents to keep parents abreast of what was happening within the classroom and what assistance parents could provide at home to support students. Walker Park will have Curriculum Night, school council meetings and implement a partners in education program to ensure parent and family engagement.
Supportive Learning Environment: Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	A strength at Walker Park is that our MTSS, EIP, Special education, PBIS and ESOL are programs that support individual student needs and have been streamlined to ensure the diverse needs of students have been met. The diverse team of school leaders met to discuss supportive learning environment resources. Our school has used the MTSS process to meet student needs. Walker Park is making strides towards being a school that effectively plans for instruction, collects data from formative and summative assessments, utilizes the data to inform instruction and monitors students' progress towards mastery of content standards. A challenge of streamlining these processes has been inconsistency in student interventions in the past.
Demographic and Financial: Summarize the demographic and financial trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student,	A strength in this area is that Walker Park staff has properly identified our lower performing sub groups. A challenge is addressing the needs of our lower performing sub groups is a challenge.

Walker Park utilizes a points system, which is a positive behavior management tool which encourages students to model appropriate classroom/school behavior. The card also affords students the opportunity to earn incentives such as Fun Fridays, grade level dances, End-of-the-Year Blowout, along with other student-driven incentives.
